Reading

It is spring!

Listen to the book, "The Thing About Spring"

Click here for the book

After the story, ask these discussion questions:

What signs of spring did mouse see?

What other animals were characters in the book?

What was the setting (where the story took place) farm? city? country? Home? Forest?

What was your favorite part of the story?

*If you are not able to access the book, choose any book to read to your child and think of questions you could ask, such as the ones above!

Turn to a page and ask,

Do you see any popcorn words on this page?

Any "chunks" you know?

Complete spring page.

Writing

Journal

Keeping a journal during this time would make for an awesome keepsake. Draw a picture and write in your journal at some point today. Write about what you are doing and why. Use capitals, spaces, periods and “brave spelling”. Remember to add the date! Invite someone else to add something to your journal too! (Mom, Dad, babysitter, brother, sister, etc.)

Go outside or look out your window. Look and listen for signs of spring. Make a list of three things that show you it is spring.

Example:

Signs of Spring

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____
